

3 Tactics For Remote Accountability

TRY THESE 3 ACCOUNTABILITY VOODLES

BIG-LITTLE WINS

Big wins for the org. are celebrated, but what about the everyday wins that keep things moving? Start a Voodle channel to share those little daily wins that add up. This is a way for both managers to know, and employees to share, what gets done each and every day.

SALES CELEBRATION

Sales teams can often feel like they're out on their own branch. Set up a Voodle channel to allow each member of the sales team to report every confirmed sale, new contract, and new client for the organization. Making a big deal out of each will only lead to growth and better culture.

WEEKLY REPORT

Start a Voodle channel with everyone on your team, and at the end of each week ask everyone to send a 60 second high level update of what they got done that week. This focus on transparency and accountability is sure to increase outputs.
